Airbrush make-up has been used in the film industry, TV and professional photography for a number of years. Acclaimed by leading make-up artists for achieving fast, outstanding results.

The application of make-up by airbrush has been used successfully in the film industry, TV and professional photography for a number of years. It's speed of application and flawless finish making it the ideal method when perfection is demanded. More recently the advent of high definition film and TV has put even greater pressure on make-up artists to deliver fast, flawless results.

The airbrush is the ideal solution.

A perfect 'fast make-up fix' for salon clients: Will generate additional revenues from your existing customer base and open new doors in specialist areas of beauty (Wedding make up, special events etc.).

Says professional make up artist, Alyn Waterman:

' I love the Mist Air system.

It allows me to create flawless skin for filming on high definition and I use the products on Kacey Ainsworth and Zoe Lucker of Holby Blue.'

Translucent and opaque finishes can be created using only a few drops of colour. Application of the Silicone-based colour is also possible using other methods by hand, brush, sponge etc. and can easily be blended. A professionally-selected range of traditional make up products are also available from Mist Air.

The world renowned 'Visign Pro' products offer ultra-smooth and highly pigmented fine formulations in cream foundation and powder. Supplied in a clever, stackable container. Also available in the Visign pro range are lip pallet colours and eye shadow.

MIST AIR PROFESSIONAL AIRBRUSH MAKE-UP

Mist Air now supply the very highest quality airbrush make-up products for professional makeup artists. They have been developed to ensure the ultimate in performance and durability under the most demanding conditions.

The equipment supplied by Mist Air now includes a battery-operated, multi-voltage lightweight compressor for those travelling regularly and only weighs 1.5KG!

Mist-air Silicone Based Airbrush Makeup

The Mist Air range includes both water-based and the totally new, super-flexible, Silicone-based products to afford make-up artists a range of products required to meet all requirements.

Available in both foundation colours and complimentary colour ranges, both Silicone and Water based ranges are fully mixable within their range. Silicone and Water-based colours can not be mixed together.

The colours in both ranges have been designed to flow through the airbrush easily without blocking, and atomise at a low operating pressure.

The super-light formulation creates a flawless, even finish that stays perfect and is very comfortable to wear during the long hours of filming, photo-shoots or catwalk shows. Both Silicone and Water-based products can be removed easily using Mist Air's special make-up remover.

TRADITIONAL MAKEUP PRODUCTS

A professionally-selected range of traditional make up products are also available from Mist Air.

The world renowned 'Visign Pro' products offer ultra-smooth and highly pigmented fine formulations in cream foundation and powder. Supplied in a clever, stackable container.

Also available in the Visign pro range are lip pallet colours, eye shadow, concealer, glitter and an incredible range of false eyelashes.

A complete range of 40 of the highest quality make up brushes, available in selected sets of 12 or singularly.

"Since discovering KIM brushes I have become addicted! The soft, but firm bristles allow precision application and perfect colour laydown. The fan brush is one of my favourites when dusting powder around the delicate eye area."

Chase Aston, Celebrity Make Up Artist 31/7/07
